Free PDF Generator Tool
Don't spend hundreds of dollars on software to create PDF files

If you ever need to create PDF files, there are many different software packages that you can purchase, some of which are very expensive. There are also some free ones available online, but sometimes they produce PDF files with a watermark across the page. Other free PDF tools may display popup advertising every time.

Since I've recently replaced my old laptop and now use Microsoft Vista (thanks for the sympathy), I've discovered that the PDF tool I previously used does not work with Vista. (Gee, what a surprise, a compatibility issue with Vista.)

After a little research, I discovered CutePDF. Once you've downloaded and installed CutePDF's FREE "Writer" tool, you'll be able to create PDF files without annoying popup ads or watermarks. It works as a printer driver, so when you print a document, it appears on your list of printers. You can simply select it as your printer, tell it the file name and location you want, then it does the rest.

If you need to edit PDF forms, or create fillable forms with PDF files, then they also have a "Professional" version available with those features and more. It's currently on special for $49.95, so it's pretty inexpensive. And it's Vista compatible, too!
