Tepato Systems offers software consulting services to help you, the small business owner. If you want the power to make better business decisions, software and other technology tools should be key parts of your strategy.

Grow Your Business with Help from Technology

Small business owners, take heart - technology can be a huge help in growing your business. Tapatato Systems can help you to manage your important business data, communicate more cost effectively with your clients, and market yourself to the world on the Internet.

If you don't have a full time person to manage your technology, contact Tapatato Systems. Or, if you have an IT person who doesn't have the skill set you need for a particular project, we may be able to help.

A Good Tool - Try it FREE for 30 days

If your email account gets as much spam as mine does, you should check out SpamArrest.com. It's an online service that can protect all of your email addresses:

- You give it a list of "authorized" people who are allowed to send you email.
- All others are challenged to reply to a verification message.
- You can access your email on their website or set it up in an email program such as Outlook (or others).

You can try it free for 30 days. After that, it's subscription based at less than $50/year. I've been using it for a couple of weeks and it blocks almost everything. It's been a huge improvement for me. I am now offering this tool as a service of Tapatato Systems, so if you're interested or would like more information, use the link below.
